FAVORITE BUGLES

By: Merritt Risher

Taps was the most popular bugle, with Soupee coming in a close second. I guess that shows what our priorities are: sleep and food. Good job, Greystone Girls!

Blocking for Annie

Gracie Horger asked some of the cast of the play, "Annie Jr.," what the biggest challenge they faced when blocking was. Most said that it was difficult to not get distracted. Stay tuned for more scoops on the play in the next addition! We can't wait!

Favorite Classes

By: Georgia Love Greenlee Doty

So I went around and asked people what their favorite classes were from the choices of: Cooking, Dog Camp, and Waterpark. These are the three most popular classes of last year.

IN FIRST PLACE WE HAVE : COOKING

IN SECOND PLACE WE HAVE : WATERPARK

AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST WE HAVE : DOG CAMP

Thank for your participation in our Greystone Gazette survey.

LELL'S WAYS GREYSTONE HAS CHANGED (III A CAMPER'S POINT OF VIEW)

By: Bella Bentley

First off I will say that Lell has been seeing camp change for a while. We finally are going to learn how camp was back in 1961-1969. Don't forget that Lell was a camper back then. Cabins have changed a lot. I got some results that I hardly believed.

1. Cabins/Living space - Back then, there were only Tentalsows 1-12 were here along with Cabins 1-8. That's right! There were only 225 campers per year. Bungalows are a new edition.
2. Bathrooms- Get this: showers were in the shower house, - below where Ceramics is! I know - you had to walk to the showers in your shower shoes and towel. But yes, you did have a place to go the bathroom in your cabin. Except that it was under your cabin and uppers and lowers shared it. There were only 2 sinks and 2 toilets. Listen up counselors: you only had 2 showers and shared them with EVERY counselor.
3. Food/Dining Hall- Lell said that the food hasn't changed. There was no salad bar, though. But she still said that her favorite food was Shepard Pie. And she loved their french toast made of texas toast, deep fried with maple syrup.
4. Activities- There are new activities that have been added as everyone knows. But did you know a new one was the swimming pools? Yes, swimming was 2 periods and you took a bus to Lake Summit. There was the lake, though, and a fun activity there called the Swinging Bridge.
5. Regular Camp Items- There were no ice huts and no water bottles. Water bottles were called canteens and were filled up in your cabin sink. By the way, candy shoppe was near crafts at that ice hut.
6. EP- EP's are generally the same in the words of Lell. But the Miss Greystone pageant has changed. The contestants were a camper from each cabin.

So generally camp has changed and stuck to traditions at the same time. To finish this article up I will tell you things about Mrs. Lell Harboe. She is the mother of Ella Anne. She currently helps out with knitting, when needed. She loves riflery and canoeing. She also drives THE red truck.

Thank you so much for reading this article. I hope you enjoyed the way camp has changed. And learning about Mrs. Lell Harboe. And also a big thanks to Mrs. Lell for her cooperation. Keep on learning! Bye from Bella Bentley.

CAMPERS MUST-HAVE ITEMS FOR CAMP

By: Julie Turner

The most popular items that campers suggested were:

watch - 6

teddy bear - 2

Some people had other great ideas that I think are very useful:

chacos

pictures

camera

pillows

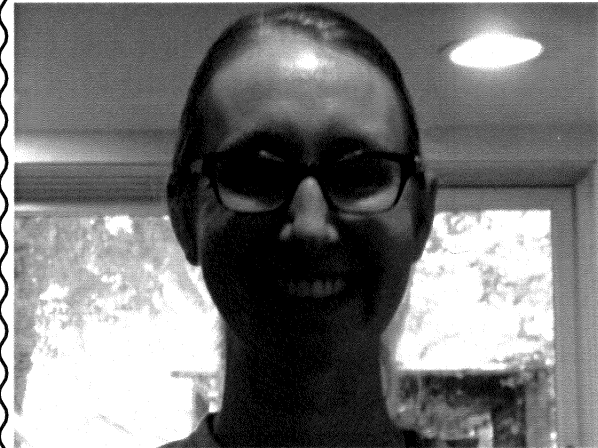

book

hat

cute head bands

fun socks

blanket

Behind the Scenes

By: Susan Pragoff

E.P.'s are so fun! There is one secret to all of the fun and silliness. Sarah Brown is the reason we have all of our E.P.'s. She has loved E.P.'s since she was a camper just like we love them now. The E.P.'s of the year were Team Fires and Protect Your Counselor. Getting colorful with your friends is such a treat! Sarah Brown puts teamwork and fun together to create unexpected tasks for counselors and campers. She enjoys putting fun ideas in both.

How To Have A Productive Rest Hour

By: Libby McGinley

The call to quarters bell just rang. The clock is ticking and you have an hour. You want to do something to pass the time, but you don't know what you'll do. Here are some tips from a seasoned expert on how you can make the most of your time.

- When your counselor brings in your mail, the first thing you should do is read your letters to see what your family and friends have to say.
- The next thing you should do is write letters back to them because they took time to write to you. You could even write to people who haven't written you first. Here are some basic topics to include in your letters:
  - Answer questions: If someone wrote you a letter and had a question or two about your camp experiences or classes, answer them!
  - Ask your own questions: If you want to know what is happening in your family or friends lives, you can ask your own questions.
  - Tell them important things: If something interesting or major happened to you while you are at camp, your parents would love to hear about it.
  - To finalize your letters, tell your recipient that you love them and miss them.
- Once you are done reading and writing mail, organizing your bunk is a great thing to do because camp bunks get messy, faster for some people than others, and some days campers run out of time to reorganize. Rest hour is a great time to do this because it is a time where everyone has to stay on their messy bunks without getting up.
- After you organize your bunk, napping can be very relaxing after a long day of camp, especially if you didn't sleep too well the night before. It is a great way to feel energized for the rest of the day.
- If you still have time afterwards, some basic things you could do with your time are:
  - Read a book or catch up on summer reading assignments.
  - Write in a journal or work on a gazette article.
  - Get a head start at getting ready for your next 2 classes whether you are putting on sunscreen or a swimsuit or just gathering your things.
  - Do something artsy such as doing a project, writing in a planner, etc.

Remember, NO TALKING!!!!

QUESTIONS FOR CAMPERS

By: Margo Brickman

KAYAKING

Hart Johnston

Q: Why did you choose this activity?

A: I do it a lot at home and really enjoy it. It's less crowded here, outside of camp, so we can have fun out in the water.

Q: What is your favorite part about it?

A: I get to swim to get to the kayak.

COOKING

Gwendolyn Becker

Q: Why did you choose this activity?

A: I took the class because the rest of the cabin wanted to take it together, and we thought it would be super fun.

Q: What is your favorite part about it?

A: Tasting the food, and seeing if what we made was a success!

HIGH ROPES

Bess Brazelton

Q: Why did you choose this activity?

A: I like heights, and it's super fun to move around up on the course. I like to challenge myself, so I thought this would be a good way to do that.

Q: What is your favorite part about it?

A: Hanging off an obstacle and just dangling in the air. OH, and the V-swing is so cool!

THE WONDERFUL WATERPARK

By: Olivia Pettus

Some of the questions I asked were: what is your favorite activity at waterpark ? or ..... why do you take waterpark ? And the last one is what year is it for you to take waterpark ?

Mills Davall
blob
loves water
1 year

Shevlin Harley
big slide
because it is fun
4th year

Lily Keenan
big slide and the rocket meet new friends every time and loves new friends
2nd year

Gwendolyn Becker
blob
fun
2nd year

Evie Bentley
blob
it is fun to fall face first of the blob
2nd year

Lane Morales
rocket
it is fun to be bounced around 4th year

I hope you guys enjoyed this article ; waterpark is a growing activity because it is great for all things ! Thank you !

THE BARK ON SANDY

By: Amelia Lenz

I asked Kate Thagard (age 9), who plays Sandy in the Junior production of Annie, a few questions.

Whats your favorite musical number? Tomorrow

What is your hardest scene? We've only really practiced one scene so far so, I don't really know yet.

What is your biggest challenge when rehearsing? Figuring out what sounds best to sing songs like a dog or in a dog voice.
