This booklet is dedicated to the boys at Falling Creek who have returned this summer for their fifth, sixth and seventh years. Their constant friendship and long-term contributions to Falling Creek have meant a great deal to the success of the camp. We are grateful for the opportunity we have had to share in the growth of these individuals and appreciate the part they have played in furthering the growth and spirit of Falling Creek.

JIMMY ELLIOT

God of the Hills, grant me strength to go back to the cities without faltering.
Strength to do my daily tasks without tiring and with enthusiasm,
Strength to help my neighbor who has no hills to remember.

God of the Lake, grant me Thy Peace and Thy Restfulness,
Peace to bring into a world of hurry and confusion,
Restfulness to carry to the tired ones I shall meet every day.
Content to do small things with a freedom from littleness,
Self Control for the unexpected emergency, and patience for the wearisome tasks.
With deep clefts within my soul to bear through the crowded places
The hush of the night time when pine trees are dark against the sky line,
The humbleness of the hills who in their mightiness know it not.
The laughter of sunny days to brighten the cheerless spots of a long winter.

God of the Stars, may I take back the gift of friendship of life for all.
Fill me with a great tenderness for the needy person at every turn.
Grant that in all my perplexities and everyday decisions
I may keep an open mind.

God of the Wilderness with Thy pure winds from the Northland, drive away my pettiness.
With harsh winds of winter drive away my selfishness and hypocrisy.
Fill me with the breath and depth and height of the wilderness.
May I live the truth Thou has taught me in every thought,
word and deed.
